

3rd Call for Papers

association suédoise
de linguistique appliquée

www.kau.se/csl/asla-2018

The biennial symposium of ASLA, the Swedish Association of Applied Linguistics, will take place on April 12–13, 2018, at Karlstad University. The symposium is jointly organized by the Center for Language and Literature in Education (CSL) and the Department of Language, Literature, and Intercultural Studies (ISLI).

The 2018 symposium theme is Classroom Research and Language/Languaging. As usual, the symposium also welcomes submissions in other areas of applied linguistics.

Topics include but are not limited to:

- Language use in the classroom
- Multilingualism and new arrivals
- Theories and methods in applied linguistics
- Language teaching and learning
- Translanguaging
- Language teacher education/teachers' professional development
- Language competence, development, and assessment

The official conference languages are Swedish and English, and we welcome submissions for both individual papers and colloquia in these languages. As ASLA strives to foster collaboration between the Nordic countries, we also welcome submissions in Danish and Norwegian.

Abstracts (of maximally 300 words including references) for both individual papers and colloquia should be submitted via the submission URL at <https://www.kau.se/abstract-submission-asla>. If you are submitting an abstract for a colloquium, please also upload a file comprising the author names, titles, and abstracts of the individual colloquium papers.

Deadline for submissions is November 1, 2017. Submissions will undergo a double-blind peer review process. Colloquia will be evaluated as a whole. Notifications of acceptance will be sent out no later than December 15, 2017.

Plenary talks

Professor Hansun Zhang Waring, Teachers' College, Columbia University
Competence, complexity, and contingency: Navigating the challenges of classroom interaction

Professor Elizabeth Lanza, Center for Multilingualism in Society across the Lifespan, University of Oslo
The family as a space for language/languageing

Professor Christina Olin-Scheller, Department of Educational Work, Karlstad University
Snapchat, messenger och google docs. Maktordningar och textrepertoarer i ett uppkopplat klassrum

Important dates

November 1, 2017	Deadline for submissions
December 15, 2017	Notification of acceptance
December 15, 2017	Registration opens
February 1, 2018	Early Bird registration closes
March 11, 2018	Registration closes

Program committee

Eric Borgström, Teresa Cadierno, Susanne Duek, Stina Ericsson, Jonas Granfeldt, Henrik Gyllstad, Päivi Juvonen, Anna-Malin Karlsson, Silvia Kunitz, Marie Källkvist, Per Ledin, Birgitta Ljung Egeland, Stefan Lundström, Ingmarie Mellenius, Nigel Musk, Marie Nordlund, Eva Olsson, Åsa Palviainen, Bethanne Paulsrud, Anne Reath Warren, Jenny Rosén, Erica Sandlund, Andrea Schalley, Thorsten Schröter, Olcay Sert, Gustaf B. Skar, Karianne Skovholt, Pia Sundqvist, Liss Kerstin Sylvén, Michael Tengberg, Marie Tåqvist, Christian Waldman, Åsa Wedin, Jonathan White, Søren Wind Eskildsen, Elisabeth Zetterholm, Malin Ågren.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 2018 ASLA symposium in Karlstad!

The ASLA 2018 Organizing Committee: Pia Sundqvist (chair), Birgitta Ljung-Egeland (secretary), Erica Sandlund, Andrea Schalley, Sebastian Malinowski, Tim Roberts

Contact: asla2018@kau.se

More information: www.kau.se/csl/asla-2018